NOTES FROM PASTOR-

AN OLD FABLE REVISITED

A man was hunting in the forest when a storm came up. Looking about for shelter from the rain, he found and crawled into a hollow log which fit quite snugly. The rain lasted for hours and soaked through the wood. The log began to contract. When the storm was over, the hunter was unable to free himself. The log held tight, and finally exhausted from his efforts, the man gave up. Knowing that he would starve to death, he saw his life flash before him. Suddenly he remembered that he had not attended his Sunday School class as often as he should have. This made him feel so small that he was able to crawl out of the log with no difficulty.

-My mind works like lightning. One brilliant flash and it is gone.

-Even when I have pains, I don't have to be one.

-All of us could take a lesson from the weather. It pays no attention to criticism.
